"Why Can't We Get Married?" is the first SeekersConversation of 2013 to be held in Perth. In this session, the panelists will share their opinions about the search for a suitable spouse, the challenges faced in that process, and the local context which impacts.

Why Can't We Get Married?

It's time to have an important conversation. As young Muslims in Perth, we face a number of challenges. From what to eat, to what we can wear, to where we can socialise and with whom. These are all important factors when trying to balance our faith values with modern Australian society. Whilst in many areas we can strike a happy balance, there are some that leave us confused and feeling isolated. Marriage for young Australian Muslims is the biggest topic that is never talked about. At least not in a public space where our spiritual and community leaders can weigh in on the matter. SeekersPoint Perth feel this is a conversation that needs to be had! We are humbly requesting your participation at our Panel discussion held on Nov 22. Our panel features prominent community leaders like

Shameema Kolia, Calisha Bennett, Sh Burhaan Mehtar of Jamiatul Ulama Perth and Iram Afroz Ali of SeekersHub Sydney. Sr Ambreen Beg and Br Abdul Rehman Ihdayhid will also present their views. You'll need to

How about an Arab spring for marriage?

... There is a lack of discussion about marriage. About what happens after the wedding, the personality clashes, how different your partner will be once you live under the same roof, why she cooked your eggs sunny-side-up when you like them scrambled, why your shirts weren't ironed, why she says 'shoi', not 'shay' when talking about tea (God forbid she's a coffee drinker!), or why she wants to visit her parents and not yours.
