WHAT IS HALAL?

Halal is an Arabic word meaning lawful or permitted. In reference to food, it is the dietary standard, as prescribed in the Qur'an (the Muslim scripture). The opposite of halal is haram, which means unlawful or prohibited. Halal and haram are universal terms that apply to all facets of life.

In general every food is considered halal in Islam unless it is specially prohibited by the Qur'an or the Hadith . By official definition, halal foods are those that are:

- Free from any component that Muslims are prohibited from consuming according to Islamic law.
- Processed, made, produced, manufactured and/or stored using utensils, equipment and/or machinery that have been cleansed according to Islamic law (Shariah).
- Halal products are derived from animals and/or poultry that have been prepared according to Islamic law under the following statement, "In the name of God, God is the Greatest" (Bismillahi, Allahu Akbar). Halal products and production are properly separated and properly identified from non-halal products.
- In the meat and poultry food industry, animals such as cows, veal, lamb, sheep, goats, turkeys, chickens, ducks, game birds, bison, venison, etc, are considered halal, but they must be prepared according to Islamic laws in order for their meat to be suitable for consumption by Muslims.
