

Pauline seeing red on Muslims

By TONI MCRAE

Immediately ban all Muslims immigrating to Australia, clamp down on monopolies such as Woolworths and Coles with their 90% market share and if Kevin Rudd comes into power, watch the GST go up.

The fiery untamed and unashamed Pauline Hanson, 53 but looking 10 years younger, drove into the Fraser Coast yesterday, espoused some interesting new views and invited locals to sign up for her new political party.

"I only need 100 more members - I've got 400 - and next week I plan to register Pauline's United Australia Party," said the senate candidate, who vows she's returning to politics because "I'm not going to let the bastards get away with it."

Ms Hanson spent yesterday afternoon meeting and greeting at Centro Hervey Bay and propping at the bar in the Torquay Hotel and today she will mix it at the Maryborough markets.

"I believe people trust me," she said. "They may not always agree with me but they know I am honest and that I will always stand by my convictions.

"I really don't believe Australians trust either John Howard or Kevin Rudd ... The political parties have had it so stitched up for so long. That's why when I went into parliament and we provided a real alternative, they had to get me. It had nothing to do with the fact I was a woman."

Ms Hanson says she's "totally opposed" to premier Beattie's grab for Traveston Dam. "It's heading towards privatisation of our water and these government water tank rebates are a way of accumulating a data base for future privatisation."

Unless we protect our farmers, place higher tariffs on imported food - "especially on China where they use human excrement for fertiliser" - and break up the supermarket chains' monopoly, we will end up not being able to feed ourselves, she says.

Amalgamation of councils is a no-no for Ms Hanson. "It's the first step in getting rid of state governments and giving total power to Canberra.

"The government is funding universities to $8 million and down south I know three of them are teaching the history of Islam and some have prayer rooms.

"We need an urgent moratorium on Muslims. They are incompatible with our way of life. Stop any more of them coming in to live here. The Cronulla riots will not be a one-off."

Ms Hanson also pointed out that months after she warned that letting black South Africans come into Australia without proper health checks it would increase HIV here. The Victorian government recently admitted the state's HIV rate was increasing.

"I think Howard will be struggling to be re-elected. He's lost votes from the gun laws, GST, Ansett and the war in Iraq.

"But if Labor gets in the GST will go up because the states - all Labor - are already screaming they don't get enough money from Canberra."

Fraser Coast Chronicle
Thursday 28/6/2007
Page: 5
Section: General News
Region: Hervey Bay QLD Circulation: 9,989
Type: Regional
Size: 339.11 sq.cms.
Published: MTWTFS-

Brief: MULTICULT
Page 2 of 2

Sharing a joke at the Torquay Hotel: Jeff Hadley, Gordon Roberts and Pauline Hanson.

Photo: VALERIE HORTON 07h1623a