

2006 Premier's Multicultural Photographic Awards

Guidelines and entry form

Minister's message

Multiculturalism is one of the Smart State's great strengths, in terms of our workforce, communities, education, business and trade.

The 2006 Premier's Multicultural Photographic Awards encourage Queensland school students and amateur and professional photographers to capture the state's 'People in Places' with a focus on the value of cultural diversity.

The awards, now in their third year, offer a range of great prizes and the short list will again feature at the government's Queensland Multicultural Festival at Roma Street Parkland on Sunday the 15th October.

Good luck with your entry.

Chris Cummins MP

Minister for Small Business
Information Technology Policy and Multicultural Affairs

Premier's message

It is with great pleasure that I invite you to enter the 2006 Premier's Multicultural Photographic Awards. These awards provide an opportunity to use your creativity and insight to celebrate Queensland's dynamic and culturally diverse society through photography.

My government, as part of its Smart State Strategy, believes in nurturing community harmony and social equity, as well as rewarding creative achievements.

Queenslanders will again have the opportunity to vote from the awards short list for the People's Choice Award.

I encourage you to enter your images based on this year's theme of 'Queensland's People in Places' and join me in celebrating our culturally vibrant communities in Queensland.

Peter Beattie MP

Premier of Queensland

Multiculturalism

Queensland has a vibrant and diverse society with a great variety of cultures, languages and religions. Multiculturalism is about the continuing development of one cohesive, harmonious society from this diversity.

Cultural diversity is an exciting asset to Queensland. It encourages understanding, respect and acceptance, while acknowledging different backgrounds, beliefs and ideas.

Multiculturalism is a strategy for all Australians. Multiculturalism aims at ensuring that all Australians have fairness of opportunity to benefit from, and contribute to, all aspects of life without prejudice or discrimination.
