

Speed Intros for Muslims

Presents

An event for Muslims searching for marriage partners

"Speed Intros for Muslims" has been created primarily to help facilitate the introduction of Muslims seeking marriage partners. Our first event was held in July last year, and was a great success, with positive and encouraging feedback from those who attended. In response to continuing requests, we have organised our next event, with details as outlined below.

Sessions are run in a similar manner to "speed-dating", with each person being given the opportunity to chat with potential, age-appropriate partners. The events are held in a supervised and safe environment, and we are happy for attendees to be accompanied by a friend or family member, if requested.

At the conclusion of the session, we ask that each person complete a feedback form, which allows us to create a matching process. We can then facilitate further contact, with the consent of each person involved. All information otherwise remains strictly confidential.

We hope that these events continue to be enjoyable and successful for all involved, Insha-Allah.
