Griffith UNIVERSITY

Multi-Faith Centre

cordially invites members of the public to a

Harmony of Voices and Sounds in celebration of

National Harmony Day 2008

7:15-9:15 PM, Wednesday, March 26
Multi-Faith Centre, Griffith University, Nathan campus

Presentations by

Aunty Delmae Barton
Fiji Senior Citizens' Association of Queensland
David Bentley, Cantor
The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints Choir
U2 Indonesian Students Association Angkung Group
Chung Tian Temple Choir
Ed Perez & Family (Filipin Trio)
The Baha'i Group Choir (TBC)
Nematollahi (Gh. A. Shah) Dervishes

More Groups to be confirmed

Refreshments will be served [Gold coin donation]

Australia's first National Harmony Day was held on 21 March 1999 to coincide with the International Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination. National Harmony Day promotes the social, cultural and economic benefits provided by Australia's rich cultural and linguistic diversity. It is a simple and powerful way of expressing that there is no place in our community for racial intolerance or disharmony. It also encourages a sense of citizenship and pride in our nation and local community.

The orange ribbon originated as a symbol of anti-racism. Now, as a positive symbol of harmony in our community, it is a simple but effective way of showing others that we believe living in harmony in a culturally diverse society benefits all citizens. To make your own orange lapel ribbon, fold 15cm of narrow orange ribbon into a loose loop and attach with a safety pin.

Co-sponsors

Always People

AMARAH (Australian Muslim Advocates for the Rights of all Humanity

Baha'i Council of Queensland

Believing Women for a Culture of Peace

Buddhist Council of Queensland

Buddhist Peace Fellowship

Catholic Commission for Ecumenism and Interfaith Relations, Brisbane

Centre for Multicultural Pastoral Care

Chung Tian Temple

Fiji Senior Citizens' Association of Queensland

International Day of Peace Alliance (IDPA)

Just Rights Queensland

Nematollahi (Gh. A. Shah) Devishes

More to be confirmed

RSVP by March 19   Call Kathy/Yaseen: 3735-7052; Email: mfc@griffith.edu.au