Message from the Minister

Queensland is a culturally diverse community, which people from more than 200 countries call home.

The 2007 Queensland Multicultural Awards are an opportunity for us to celebrate, recognise and thank the many people and organisations from diverse communities who contribute to and support our community.

Since 1990, these annual awards have recognised community volunteers and groups whose outstanding contributions have helped make Queensland such a fantastic place to live, work and raise a family.

In 2007, we will recognise the contribution that individuals, schools, community based organisations, businesses and government agencies all make to multiculturalism in Queensland.

A 2007 Multicultural Champion will also be awarded, following in the footsteps of Pat Rafter in 2005 and Nick Earls in 2006, and Multicultural Achievers will be recognised for their contributions to Queensland.

I congratulate Nick Earls on a sensational year and thank him for his energetic and passionate advocacy for rights of refugees and support for multiculturalism.

Nominations for the 2007 Awards program will close on 3 August 2007 and the Awards ceremony will be later in the year.

A continual effort by the Government and the community is essential if all Queenslanders are to reap the significant social and economic benefits of diversity.

I encourage all individuals and organisations that are contributing to multiculturalism in Queensland to enter the 2007 Queensland Multicultural Awards.

Individual Category – Refugee Services

Criteria

When assessing nominations, judges will consider the following category-specific criteria.

Nominations must address all of the relevant criteria.

Individual category

This category recognises volunteers who have, consistently and over a substantial period of time:

- promoted multiculturalism and improved community relations
- provided assistance in the settlement of migrants, and/or
- contributed to supporting harmony and reducing prejudice.

From nominations for this category, the judging panel will select award winners in the following three sub-categories: Community Services; Refugee Services; and Outstanding Young Achiever (25 years or under).

(The Minister for Multiculturalism will also recognise a Multicultural Champion and Multicultural Achievers at the award ceremony in September. Nominations are not necessary for these awards.)

Yeronga State High School
2006 Winner
School category – Secondary

Criteria

Community based organisation category

This category recognises not-for-profit, community-based organisations that have consistently and over a substantial period of time:

- promoted multiculturalism and improved community relations
- provided assistance in the settlement of migrants, and/or
- contributed to supporting harmony and reducing prejudice.

School categories (Primary and Secondary)

This category recognises one primary and one secondary school that has consistently incorporated multiculturalism as a core value of their culture and practices in one or more of the following areas:

- planning and policy implementation
- curriculum
- community relations
- school environment and culture.

Nominations are open to all Queensland schools, including state, Catholic and independent schools.

Criteria

Business category

This category recognises businesses that have consistently and over a substantial period of time:

- undertaken or supported community projects that promote multiculturalism, reduce prejudice or enhance cultural diversity
- pursued employment practices that value employee language, culture and ethnicity, and/or
- used its diverse workforce to create and/or support business opportunities.

Government category

This category recognises government departments or agencies, government-owned corporations or local government authorities or agencies that have consistently and over a substantial period of time:

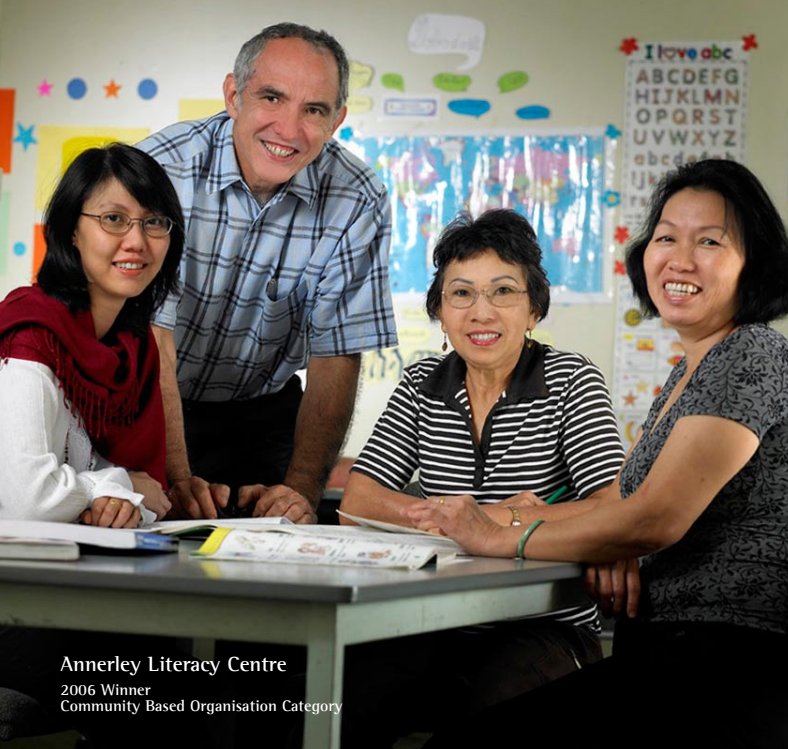

- implemented multicultural best practice policies, including culturally-sensitive service delivery models or productive diversity initiatives
- undertaken projects that promote multiculturalism, reduce prejudice or enhance cultural diversity within government or society, and/or
- pursued employment practices that promote the development of a culturally diverse workforce.

How to prepare your nomination

Nominations should not be too long (up to a maximum of three pages) and should address the relevant criteria succinctly and clearly.

A successful nomination will contain the following:

1. Introduction

The introduction should include the following information:

- a brief outline of who the nominee is, including their age and place of residence (for nominees in the individual category)
- a brief description of the key activities undertaken by the nominee to support multiculturalism
- an indication of how long the nominee has been active in multicultural activities.

How to prepare your nomination

2. Response to criteria

Nominations should address all of the relevant selection criteria, and should indicate which criteria they are addressing.

For each selection criteria, you should indicate the activities undertaken by the nominee that have supported multiculturalism and how this has been done.

3. Supporting material

Where appropriate, you may also attach copies of any relevant material that supports your nomination. This can include audio or video material, newspaper clippings, articles, photographs or other material.

Please note, supporting material will not be returned to you. If you provide supporting material, you will be required to authorise the Queensland Government to make use of any images contained in this material for promotional and other activities.
